EXPAND YOUR TEACHING HORIZONS
AND ENJOY A FANTASTIC STAY IN PAMPLONA, SPAIN

Location: Pamplona, Navarre (SPAIN)

San Fermín is a unique festival in the world. We designed this course so you can combine learning interesting English teaching tools for primary with the experiencing one of the world best known festivals.

The timetable has been shaped so the trainees have free time to enjoy the countless activities done all around Pamplona during these days. A perfect combination of training and disconnection.

General Overview

In this training course the trainees will be exposed to several tools, techniques and approaches that can enhance their teaching practice. From analyzing the needs of the learners, to the proper use of Flipped Classroom, with a big range of engaging activities in between, the teachers attending this course will experience first hand each of these innovative tools so they can then use them in their teaching realities.

The course has been designed to be very communicative so the teachers can also use this training course to improve the command of the language (a B1 base level is considered the minimum to be able to take profit of the course). There's no better way to learn methodology than by experiencing it.

Course Evaluation

The trainees will have to show an active participation throughout all the course, as the activities have been designed to be active and collaborative. Through this collaboration, they will have to apply the different tools and techniques in hypothetical scenarios. They will have to present these to the rest of the trainees. This way, they will leave with several sample tools.

Every session there will be a part for reflection, as assessment for learning is one key element in any good teaching. This process will help the trainees interiorize everything dealt with throughout that day.

This course has been designed as a Task-Based Learning experience, with a lot of group work and dealing with non-linguistic content; this way, the improvement of the language will be more effective, according to the latest theories (Krashen, Ellis, etc.).

Comments

The course will be practical. We will work from the examples and we expect the trainees to do an effort outside of the training course and reflect upon the activities we develop in the class so they can understand the theories and techniques behind the examples we will have experienced.

Duration of the course

Our 7-day course, starting on Monday and finishing on Sunday, is a very efficient way to implement your mobility by integrating your learning while saving time and expenses.

The 30 hours duration of the course is applied on average considering all training days of the course, for the implementation of the objectives and lessons, in connection with the "Quality standards for courses under Erasmus+ KA1"

Complementary Activities Included

- A guided tour around the city for the trainees to get familiar with emblematic and important spots.
- A guided visit to a medieval castle. After the visit, there will be a special lunch.

Additional Complementary Activities

- Other cultural activities will be recommended upon arrival.

Available lodging

Finding lodging in Pamplona during San Fermín is borderline impossible. Nevertheless, we have managed to design a collaboration agreement with Bcome, a brand new student residence in the city not far from the premises of the training course and close to the city center but not too much so you can get some rest.

All the rooms have en-suite facilities and wi-fi access. The center has study areas available. The trainee will be able to choose between a room with a kitchen or without.

For staying in Bcome, the trainees will have to book it through Nessla, as the center has reserved some rooms for us. The booking should be as soon as possible, as the amount of available rooms is limited and we cannot guarantee last-minute availability.

The prices per night are the following:

- Single room (without kitchen): 87€
- Single room with kitchen: 93€
